Action:	Withdrawn from Committee
Result:
Remarks:	FAILED
Whereas:	Some professors choose to utilize the same examination for more than one semester; and
Whereas:	These professors may or may not choose to allow students access to view these exams; and
Whereas:	Viewing a graded examination is beneficial to students on two levels; (1) As a learning process and (2) As a reinforcement to ensure that the exam has been graded properly and fairly; and
Whereas:	A professor who does not choose to return examinations to students, generally will inform the student of his/her grade through alternative methods, which are not as conducive to either of the above processes.
Be It Therefore Resolved That:	All students be given the right to view any examination, test, or quiz taken by the student, after it has been graded; and
Be It Further Resolved That:	Professors may be allowed to retain any and all exams for their own files, so long as any student has access to see his/her own exam.
